Jesus was passing through Jericho where there lived a small man called Zacchaeus. Zacchaeus collected taxes for the Romans and took from the Jewish people more than they were due to give, keeping the extra money for himself. This made him very rich but not that popular. Despite all his riches he was very sad because he knew he was a bad person who had more enemies than friends. When he heard that Jesus was passing, he went to see Him but couldn't for the crowds. He then climbed up a sycamore tree where he had a clear view, but Jesus saw him and called him down. Jesus knew all about him! Zacchaeus received Jesus in his house that day and then received Him into his heart. He gave lots of his money away and gave back to those that he robbed four times the amount he took!
